Gender and Education

Edited by VIMALA RAMACHANDRAN AND KAMESHWARI JANDHYALA

Education of women and girls in India has been widely debated and discussed since the mid-1900s. While the last century has seen a considerable shift in the status of women in Indian society, gender equality in education continues to be influenced by three sets of issues: economy, society and culture; accessibility and availability of formal education; and gender norms.

This volume brings together wide-ranging debates on the social, political and economic realities affecting the education of women across the country, and vividly analyses the different axes of inequality in education through a study of textbooks.

A Handbook of Rural India

Edited by SURINDER S JODHKA

'Rural' and 'urban' are the foremost categories through which social life has been visualised and engaged with in modern and contemporary times.

This volume provides a historical perspective on the subject of the 'rural' and covers a wide range of topics that have been critical to the imaginings and empirics of village life in contemporary India.

Water: Growing Understanding, Emerging Perspectives

Edited by MIHIR SHAH AND P S VIJAYSHANKAR

For decades after independence, Indian planning ignored the need for sustainability and equity in water resource development and management. It was only in the 1990s that serious questions began to be raised on our understanding and approach to rivers.

This collection of essays, reflecting the multi-dimensional, multi-disciplinary character of water, is arranged thematically and chronologically.

Social Policy

Edited by JEAN DRÈZE

The performance of social programmes is far from ideal, with still a long way to go in directly addressing the interests, demands and rights of the unprivileged, despite some benefits now taking the form of enforceable legal entitlements.

This collection of essays is clustered around six major themes: health, education, food security, employment guarantee, pensions and cash transfers, and inequality and social exclusion.

Economic Growth and Its Distribution in India

Edited by PULAPRE BALAKRISHNAN

India has witnessed a macroeconomic reversal, a slowdown in growth last a little longer than the boom preceding it. This volume represents a range of perspectives: a long view of growth, a macro view of recent history, a study of the economy covering agriculture, industry and services, and the inclusiveness of recent growth.

The Problem of Caste

Edited by SATISH DESHPANDE

The general perception about caste changed irrevocably in the 1990s post the Mandal Commission recommendations. This volume discusses established perspectives in relation to emergent concerns, disciplinary responses, the interplay between caste, class and politics, challenges in law and policy, emergent research areas, and post-Mandal innovations in caste studies.
